

Infinite Colours

Xavier Ho
xavier.ho@monash.edu
Monash University
Caulfield East, Australia

Stephen Krol
stephen.krol@monash.edu
Monash University
Caulfield East, Australia

ABSTRACT

"Infinite Colours" brings 2,499 videogame titles into a slow canvas of accumulative light. Each game adds a unique shape and colour onto the canvas and plays a unique string of notes. Over 8 hours, the canvas will be filled with infinite colours to celebrate LGBTQIA+ independent videogames.

History has always been queer. Through this generative visual and sound work, we aim to demonstrate the collective activism, movement, and creative expressions that queer folks are making to be visible, heard, and to say that we are here.

But queer movement does not happen overnight; queer resistance is accumulative and built over generations of self-sacrifice and self-acceptance. The multitude intersectionality of the unruly times slowly bleeds colour into the world, blends motion into the landscape, and accumulatively becomes a canvas of evermoving colourful light.

ACM Reference Format:

Xavier Ho and Stephen Krol. 2023. Infinite Colours. In Proceedings of SA Art Gallery '23. ACM, New York, NY, USA, 1 page. <https://doi.org/10.1145/3610537.3622958>

Permission to make digital or hard copies of part or all of this work for personal or classroom use is granted without fee provided that copies are not made or distributed for profit or commercial advantage and that copies bear this notice and the full citation on the first page. Copyrights for third-party components of this work must be honored. For all other uses, contact the owner/author(s).

SA Art Gallery '23, December 12-15, 2023, Sydney, NSW, Australia

© 2023 Copyright held by the owner/author(s).

ACM ISBN 979-8-4007-0308-9/23/12.

<https://doi.org/10.1145/3610537.3622958>