1 Overview

Swarms of spacefaring alien microbes, an infected star, two one-of-a-kind spacecraft, a reluctant astronaut, and the construction of a never-before-seen star system. These are just some of the challenges that the ILM visual effects team, overseen by Production VFX Supervisors Paul Lambert and Mag Sarnowska, was tasked with creating for Christopher Miller and Phil Lord's blockbuster film, Project Hail Mary. Join the Industrial Light & Magic team as
