ABSTRACT

Bon Appetit! is a computer-animated musical short film all about Gus, a flashy snail who longs to become the star of the show — no matter where or what it takes.

The goofy story starts when Gus accidentally arrives atop a box of produce in the kitchen of a high-end French Restaurant. Despite the potentially fatal implications, Gus breaks out into song, boldly declaring his dreams of becoming something greater in the style of classic Broadway musical numbers while dancing through surreal, food-filled set pieces of kitchenware and delectable ingredients. Will Gus's larger-than-life ambitions pan out? Or will his appetite for the spotlight cause his inevitable demise?
